

Already Existing Outreach Opportunities

Oregon State Ichthyology Collection Outreach Events

Description: Hands-on specimen demonstrations and collections tours for visiting school groups and members of the public.

Dates: Several throughout the year

Opportunities: Members of the department are welcome to demonstrate specimens from our teaching collection during our outreach events.

To get involved, contact: Dr. Brian Sidlauskas, 541-737-6789, brian.sidlauskas@oregonstate.edu

Bird Nerds

Description: Come bird with us while learning about the newest research & gaining useful skills

Dates: Year round

Opportunities: Guest speaker, volunteer with events

To get involved, contact: Current club president, Noelle Moen 541-968-5458, moenn@oregonstate.edu

Student chapters of The Wildlife Society (TWS) & American Fisheries Society (AFS)

Description: Meet fellow professionals and students, learn more about current research and important issues, and take part in activities that go beyond the classroom

Dates: Year round

Opportunities: Guest speaker; volunteer with various events throughout the year

To get involved, contact: Danielle Jarkowsky & Luke Painter, 541-737-1091, Danielle.jarkowsky@oregonstate.edu; Luke.Painter@oregonstate.edu

Willamette Valley Bird Symposium

Description: A day-long symposium bringing together professionals, students, and amateurs from the Willamette Valley to celebrate birds

Dates: January

Opportunities: Guest speaker; volunteer

To get involved, contact: Dr. Jim Rivers, 541-737-6581, Jim.Rivers@oregonstate.edu

Tables at President's State of the University event in Portland

Description: Join President Edward J. Ray for a review of the university's accomplishments over the last year.

Dates: February

Opportunities: Host a table to showcase your research/activities to potential donors

To get involved, contact: Geoff Bishop, 541-737-7847, geoffrey.bishop@oregonstate.edu

RAFWE (Research Advances in Fisheries, Wildlife, and Ecology)

Description: Showcases research, extension, and outreach activities conducted by the Department of Fisheries and Wildlife

Dates: February

Opportunities: Guest speaker; volunteer

To get involved, contact the current Fisheries and Wildlife Graduate Student Association (FWGSA) president, Jenna Curtis, Jenna.Curtis@oregonstate.edu; or Matthew Ramirez, Matthew.Ramirez@oregonstate.edu

Salmon Bowl

Description: Oregon State University proudly hosts the Oregon Regional Competition called the 'Salmon Bowl.' Teams of 4–5 students from high schools throughout Oregon compete in a quiz-bowl to win great prizes and scholarships.

Dates: February

Opportunities: Volunteer

To get involved, contact: 541-737-3504, salmonbowl.volunteer@gmail.com, salmonbowl.nosb@gmail.com

Marine Science Day @ HMSC

Description: Get behind-the-scenes to experience the research, education and outreach in marine sciences that makes this marine laboratory unique in the Pacific Northwest

Dates: 04/09/16

Opportunities: Volunteer/host an interactive exhibit

To get involved, contact: Maryann Bozza, 541-867-0234, Maryann.Bozza@oregonstate.edu

Natural History Discovery Days

Description: Discovery Days is an outreach program sponsored by the Colleges of Science and Engineering. This highly popular event was developed to allow students to explore more of the world around them by engaging their minds in interactive exhibits.

Dates: 05/03/16 -05/04/16

Opportunities: Host an interactive exhibit and interact with community members of all ages

To get involved, contact: Ms. Margie Haak, 541-737-6716, science.outreach@oregonstate.edu

OSU Ag Day

Description: Showcase of student clubs in the College of Agricultural Sciences

Dates: Spring

Opportunities: Host a table showcasing your current research/activities

To get involved, contact: Greg Thompson, College of Agriculture 541-737-2661, AgEd@oregonstate.edu

Mi Familia

Description: Celebration of Latino culture and welcoming for Latino families of OSU students sponsored by MANRRS local student chapter (Minorities in Agriculture, Natural Resources, and Related Sciences)

Dates: August or September

Opportunities: Volunteer; host a table to showcase your research/activities

To get involved, contact: Wanda Crannell, 541-737-2999, Wanda.Crannell@oregonstate.edu

Annual Coastal Learning Symposium

Description: The Oregon Coast Aquarium is seeking formal and informal educators, scientists, conservationists, and others to share their expertise at this year's Coastal Learning Symposium

Dates: 10/14/16

Opportunities: Be a presenter and help teachers to inspire and prepare the next generation of Oregonians to explore, appreciate, and protect our state's natural resources!

To get involved, contact: sara.shawroberts@aquarium.org; application deadline is July 29th.